

Halelly Azulay, MA Trainer, Facilitator, Consultant

Halelly Azulay is an author, speaker, facilitator, and leadership development strategist—and an expert in communication skills and emotional intelligence. She has written two books, Employee Development on a Shoestring (ATD Press) and Strength to Strength: How Working from Your Strengths Can Help You Lead a More Fulfilling Life. In her work with leaders, she draws on her 20+ years of professional experience in communication and leadership development in corporate, government, nonprofit, and academic settings.

Halelly works with all levels, including C-level leaders, frontline managers, and individual contributors to develop leaders people want to follow. She is a sought-after speaker and active writer. Halelly blogs on leadership, communication, and self-development, and publishes the podcast The TalentGrow Show. She designed two LinkedIn Learning courses titled Leveraging Your Strengths and 10 Mistakes Leaders Should Avoid.

She holds a Bachelor's in Communication and a Master's in Intercultural/Organizational Communication from the University of Maryland. She is fluent in Hebrew and has worked/lived in Israel and the US.

"The greater danger for most of us lies not in setting our aim too high and falling short; but in setting our aim too low, and achieving our mark." ~ Michelangelo
