

Margarita Rozenfeld, M.A. Coach, Facilitator

Margarita Rozenfeld is a coach and facilitator to non-profit, government, and private sector clients seeking to align their vision, culture, and people. Margarita is a frequent keynote speaker and has been featured in The Atlantic, The Washington Business Journal, The Washington Post, My Business Magazine as well as several books on entrepreneurship and organizational effectiveness. She founded YES!Circle, a networking organization for entrepreneurs in Washington, DC, and is active in community and advocacy work.

She previously worked at Booz Allen Hamilton and Chemonics International, where she focused on international development work. She holds a Bachelor's degree from James Madison University in International Affairs and Spanish and a graduate certificate in Organization Development and Change Leadership from Georgetown University. Her passion for international development and exploring different cultures has inspired her to travel, live, and work overseas. Margarita has studied in Spain, worked in Honduras, and traveled extensively in Europe, Asia, and Latin America. She is natively fluent in Russian and proficient in Spanish.

---

“The greatest glory in living lies not in never falling, but in rising every time we fall.”
Nelson Mandela

